REED ARENA

Reed Arena, a 12,989-seat special events center located on the west side of campus, opened in the fall of 1998.

Reed Arena serves as the home for the Texas A&M men's and women's basketball teams. Complete with the amenities of an NBA arena and the atmosphere of a collegiate setting, Reed Arena provides A&M with one of the best basketball arenas in the southwest and provides first-class accommodations not only for Aggie basketball but for major concerts, commencement ceremonies and a variety of other events.

The arena is named for Houston veterinarian Dr. Chester J. Reed, a 1947 graduate of A&M, and his wife, Billie Jean. In 1986, the Reeds contributed 265 acres of undeveloped land west of Houston to the university, forming the nucleus of assets used to fund the facility.

The playing surface was re-designed for the 2019-20 athletic year. The new court features the popular Lone Star logo in maroon at mid-court, which makes this the fourth iteration of the Reed Arena court that features the shape of Texas. The court markings are maroon, including the 3-point line of 22 feet, 1.75 inches.

The hardwood court is surround by a maroon apron, which for the first time, features the text "Gig 'Em Aggies" in white. Additionally, Texas A&M's online presence is featured on the court with athletics' Twitter and Instagram handle of @12thMan and the web address of 12thMan.com.

There are 10 meeting rooms in Reed Arena which can house a variety of events. Pregame and postgame gatherings are planned for many games and will regularly occupy the 6,000 square foot room high atop the second level on the east side.

COX-MCFERRIN CENTER FOR AGGIE BASKETBALL

During the summer of 2019, the Cox-McFerrin Practice Center went through a facelift that transformed both the coaches offices and practice gym.

The court in the practice gym was repainted to reflect the new NCAA rules on changed lines. New graphics were printed and displayed throughout the facility to reflect Coach Williams' philosophy and honor the program's history with imagery that displays Aggies in the NBA as well as tournament appearances.

The weight room was completely overhauled with windows, graphics, state-of-the-art equipment and brand-new flooring.

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE

The Aggies are proud to call Reed Arena their home as they enter their 21st season inside the 12,989-seat arena.

Texas A&M has enjoyed great success at Reed Arena as they hold a 268-98 record at the facility and have not had a home losing season since 2003-04.

The 12th Man plays a critical role at all home games as the Reed Rowdies, Texas A&M's student section, create a raucous environment behind both goal posts, giving the Aggies one of the best environments in the country.

Adding to the ambience of the game are a DJ and emcee that entertain fans of all ages pregame and throughout the game during media timeouts.

Texas A&M has averaged more than 6,900 fans per game five of the last six seasons, giving the Aggies one of the best home-court advantages in the SEC and NCAA.

2016 SEC CHAMPIONSHIP

It was a winding road that had no shortage of drama along the way, but the 2015-16 Texas A&M basketball team was able to do something that no other Aggie squad had been able to do in 30 years - win a conference title.

For the first time since 1986, Texas A&M cut down the nets as regular season conference champions, following the victory over Vanderbilt during the regular season finale. The Aggies shared the league crown with Kentucky, who also posted a 13-5 SEC mark, but A&M took the top seed at the SEC Tournament by virtue of a 79-77 overtime victory over the Wildcats on Feb. 20.

The Aggies' path to the title saw them earn seven straight victories to begin SEC play and climb to No. 5 in the national polls, the highest ranking in program history. A lull followed that saw A&M drop five consecutive SEC games, four by five or less points, before the Aggies got hot to close the regular season with six straight wins.

Overall, the league title was the 12th in Texas A&M men's basketball history.

Texas A&M has made 14 appearances in the NCAA Tournament and has made the field in eight of the last 14 years.

The Aggies are 13-15 all-time in 14 appearances in the NCAA Tournament and have advanced to the round of 16 five times - 1951*, 1969†, 1980, 2007, 2016 (* 16-team field; † 25-team field).

This included a trio of Sweet 16 appearances since the tournament field expanded to 48 teams - in 1980, under the direction of Shelby Metcalf, in 2007, led by head coach Billy Gillispie, and in 2016 under Billy Kennedy.

A&M head coach Buzz Williams led Marquette and Virginia Tech to eight tournament appearances in 11 years and has four career Sweet Sixteen appearances and one Elite Eight berth.

MEDIA EXPOSURE

Texas A&M embraces its large and growing presence in the local, state and national media.

Since the inception of the SEC Network, Texas A&M's presence has grown exponentially with nearly every game on the ESPN family of networks. For the seventh consecutive year, all conference games air on ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU or SEC Network.

Additional home non-conference games air on SEC Network+, which can be seen throughout the United States on the Watch ESPN app.

With the additional exposure, student-athletes are requested for numerous interviews throughout the season on various platforms (television, print and podcasts/radio).

Following every game, two student-athletes and head coach Buzz Williams address the media.

KYLE FIELD

The Texas A&M Men's Basketball team travels in a first-class manner to all of their road games.

The Aggies utilize a luxury charter jet that allows them a flexible schedule and minimizes lost class time. With Easterwood Airport less than three miles away from Reed Arena, Texas A&M's travel time is as efficient as possible.

In the event the Aggies don't charter a flight, first-class busses are reserved that feature state-of-the-art entertainment features and luxury comfort.

After reaching their destination, the Aggies always stay in top-of-the-line hotels to maximize rest prior the game.

One of Texas A&M Athletics' primary objectives is to provide an unmatched student-athlete experience and that mentality can be seen first-hand when the Aggies travel.

In today's college basketball, the season isn't just from November to the first weekend of April. To be an elite team and consistently make the NCAA Tournament, Coach Williams' teams are constantly trying to #getBETTER as they work hard throughout the calendar year.

Using a wide-range of drills and activities, Texas A&M works tirelessly toward their goals with a single focus and purpose.

Since their arrival to Bryan-College Station, Coach Williams and staff have brought a new mindset of physicality and student-athlete well-being. The players have seen tangible results, both on and off the court, which leads to an overall better lifestyle.

AGGIES

A staple of every Buzz Williams' program, Boot Camp signals the unofficial start to each season. Boot Camp occurs each year prior to the start of official practices and pushes the team to their physical and mental limits. Each session helps prepare the student-athletes to become better teammates and persevere through all of the obstacles they may face throughout their season and careers.

The week-long program features sessions that mostly occur in the morning before sunrise. Each player must successfully pass each session before advancing to the next. The week culminates as every player dons their game jersey and staff dresses up in gameday attire as the team literally runs through their schedule. Beginning with the exhibition game and ending with national championship, each game on the schedule represents a different drill the team must complete.

While Boot Camp tests the players physically, there is nothing that compares to the team chemistry that is built during the grueling week. Players are forced to rely on their teammates and new leaders emerge. Players see firsthand the level of teamwork needed to complete Boot Camp and form a tight bond that lasts over the course of the season. After completing the final drill, all the blood, sweat and tears turns into pure joy as the players are gifted with adidas gear for the new season.

BUZZ'S BUNCH

While Texas A&M is known for its traditions, head coach Buzz Williams has a tradition of his own with his program, Buzz's Bunch.

Buzz's Bunch is a program with a primary objective of helping children with special needs come together socially while hopefully falling in love with game of basketball.

Buzz's Bunch began in 2008 when Williams was the head coach at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wisc., and it continued to flourish during his time in Blacksburg, Va., at Virginia Tech. The free program has blossomed into a community with more than 300 members across the nation, many of whom remain in close contact with Coach Buzz.

Among the benefits of joining Buzz's Bunch are a pair of opportunities to interact with Coach Buzz, his staff and members of the Texas A&M men's basketball team. This past summer, members had the opportunity to partake in basketball drills, tour the Texas A&M basketball facilities as well as taking a photo with Coach Buzz.

Members also received free tickets to their choice of selected non-conference games and had the chance to spend time with players and staff on the court before warmups.

QUOTE SHIRTS

Quote Shirts have been a pillar in the culture of Coach Buzz Williams' programs throughout his career as a head coach.

Coach Williams gives Quote Shirts to the players and staff throughout the season to show them that he loves them, and also the shirts serve a bigger purpose with stories and seminars within its context.

Each individual Quote Shirt carries a life lesson or story behind its design for which the people within the men's basketball family can relate.

Whether the shirt reminds the players of a moment, value or just a simple sentence or phrase designed to help them #getBETTER, it carries a deeper meaning.

These shirts forever serve as a reminder for all involved with the program to do right for the rest of their lives.

AGGIES

Texas A&M Basketball is committed to being the trailblazers of the Name, Image, and Likeness movement. This past season each student-athlete was able to handcraft their own personal brand including logo design, social media strategy, scalability, and product ideas.

On top of giving the student-athletes the tools to grow their personal brands, the Texas A&M Basketball staff also led break out sessions titled 'BrandOne' that showed the student-athletes how to efficiently grow their brand into something that is sustainable for their preferred lifestyle and time after basketball.

The Texas A&M Basketball staff continues to educate the players on marketing nuances, devoting time and providing them with every possible resource to solidify their brands as we move into the new landscape of college athletics.

To keep up with the rigors of a college basketball season, Texas A&M student-athletes prepare themselves throughout the year in a newly-renovated weight room located in the Cox-McFerrin Center.

During the summer of 2019, the weight room went through a complete overhaul with new flooring and equipment that is outfitted with the latest technology. New lights and an audio system were installed to help student-athletes get the most out of their workouts.

Under the guidance of Director of Sport Performance Steve Gephardt, the Aggies' strength and conditioning program is one of the best in the nation. Coach Gephardt's workouts are based on the fact that no two players are built the same.

Individual programs are built for each player to help them maximize their strength, stability and mobility. In an effort to prevent injuries over the course of a season, workouts are comprised of Olympic lifts as well as bilateral movements.

The Sports Medicine Department at Texas A&M is committed to providing quality health care to student-athletes. The goal of the sports medicine staff is to provide the most comprehensive individual sports medicine care available in a professional, efficient and service-oriented manner.

Texas A&M's dedicated staff of physicians, athletic trainers and physical therapists implement strategies to help prevent and manage athletic related injuries or illnesses while promoting athletic performance of all Aggie student-athletes.

The Cox-McFerrin Center contains a fully-equipped athletic training room that went through a complete overhaul during the summer of 2020. The area features examination rooms, multiple training tables and a cold tubs. Associate Athletic Trainer Eddie Benion and the sports medicine staff handle all aspects of treatment and the rehabilitation of injuries from this room.

Team orthopedic surgeon, James S. Distefano, D.O. joined Texas A&M in 2007. He attended the University of Louisiana-Monroe as an undergraduate and attended medical school at Oklahoma State University College of Osteopathic Medicine and graduated in 1992. In addition to his duties at Texas A&M, Dr. Distefano is a practicing physician at Cornerstone Sports Medicine.

Texas A&M has made tremendous steps in not only the physical aspect of sports medicine, but the mental aspect as well. The athletics department employs two full-time sports psychologists in Dr. Ryan Pittsinger and Dr. Lauren Craig.

Ryan Pittsinger, PhD, came to Texas A&M in 2016 and serves as Assistant Athletic Director and Director of Counseling and Sport Psychology Services. In his role, Dr. Pittsinger serves the needs of all student-athletes by honoring the unique demands and experiences they are often faced with and striving to offer support in meaningful ways that is tailored to each student-athlete's specific needs.

Dr. Pittsinger completed his Bachelor's degree in Psychology from the University of Utah and Master's degree in Sport Psychology from California State University, Long Beach. He earned a PhD in Counseling Psychology from the University of Iowa, where he worked in the Athletic Department, in addition to teaching sport psychology and resiliency courses in the Kinesiology Department.

Additionally, the locker room's nutrition center is specifically tailored to meet the team's needs and preferences.

A variety of services are available to student-athletes to help create a healthy lifestyle that allows them to succeed both on and off the field. Jonathan Tanguay heads the Texas A&M Performance Nutrition staff who are committed to making nutrition the foundation of student-athlete success.

Student-athlete engagement serves as the model for comprehensive student-athlete engagement where Aggie student-athletes are challenged to maximize their potential in pursuit of the Texas A&M University core values of excellence, integrity, leadership, loyalty, respect and selfless service.

Led by Amanda Hernandez and her staff, student-athlete engagement provides Aggie student-athletes opportunities to develop through personalized interactions and dynamic and engaging programming focusing on the areas of career development, personal growth, civic engagement, selfless service and leadership.

One of the largest components of student-athlete engagement is the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC), which serves as a forum for providing input to the Athletics Department the SEC and the NCAA regarding present and future issues, both on- and off-campus, pertaining to student-athletes.

SAAC is also responsible for organizing Aggies CAN, the largest student-athlete run canned food drive in the country, with collections taking place throughout one week and concluding at Kyle Field the day of a home football game. SAAC is comprised of two student-athlete representatives from each intercollegiate sport, and is led by an Executive Board.

Student-athlete engagement creates an awareness of the personal and societal benefits of Texas A&M's core value of selfless service through community outreach initiatives that will continue to impact student-athletes beyond their time at Texas A&M University. Student-athletes impact numerous organizations in the Brazos Valley as community service hours routinely eclipse 5,000 hours.

OKLAHOMA CITY '94

Buzz Williams was named the 22nd head coach of the Texas A&M men's basketball program on April 3, 2019.

In his first season at the helm, Williams reinvigorated the program as the Aggies shattered preseason expectations and finished in a tie for sixth in the Southeastern Conference after being projected to finish 12th. Williams was voted as the Associated Press SEC Coach of the Year as Texas A&M won 10 SEC contests, which was the most since the Maroon & White won the league in 2016. During conference play, the Aggies sported the SEC's best scoring defense, limiting opponents to 67.4 points per game. Texas A&M closed out the regular season with five wins in its last seven games, which included a 78-75 road victory over No. 17 Auburn, which ended the Tigers' 19-game home winning streak.

Fresh off his third consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance, Williams returned to Aggieland after spending five seasons at Virginia Tech. His coaching career has included stints as an assistant, associate head and head coach, and he has been at the NCAA Division I level for 21 seasons. Williams has recruited and coached more than 20 players who have earned all-conference accolades, including two league Players of the Year, two conference Freshman of the Year and four Associated Press All-Americans.

In his five years in Blacksburg, Williams led the Hokies to four consecutive 20-win seasons and four consecutive 10-win seasons in Atlantic Coast Conference play. In 2018-19 Williams guided a nationally-ranked Tech team to a 26-9 record, finishing 12-6 in the ACC. The Hokies earned a 4-seed in the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the Sweet 16 for just the second time in program history. Williams earned his 100th victory as the head coach at Virginia Tech when the Hokies knocked off Liberty in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

To cap off the 2017-18 season, the Hokies made a second consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance, the first time the school could claim that in more than three decades. The Hokies finished the season 21-12 overall and 10-8 in the ACC. Tech made it three consecutive 20-win season and three consecutive 10-win ACC seasons.

The Hokies took care of business in the regular season. They defeated four nationally-ranked teams for the first time in school history, including three wins against top 10 programs. The Hokies also finished 11-2 in the non-conference regular season slate. On Jan. 29, 2017, the Hokies defeated Boston College, 85-79, to give Williams his 200th career victory.

The 2016-17 season was their most successful season in the last decade. Tech finished the season 22-11 overall and earned its first NCAA Tournament bid since 2007. Tech was 10-8 in the ACC regular season for the second consecutive season. The Hokies claimed three top 25 victories against ACC foes and finished with an impressive 11-1 record in non-conference regular season action.

In his second season, the Hokies were one of the most improved teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the NCAA. Predicted, once again, to reside near the bottom of the league standings, the Hokies finished with a 20-15 overall record under Williams, including a 10-8 mark in the ACC. Tech advanced to the second round of the 2016 NIT, defeating Princeton at home in overtime before falling at BYU two days later.

In his inaugural season at Virginia Tech, Williams led the Hokies to an 11-22 overall record. He began building the culture that would allow the Hokies to enjoy future successes. The team went a long ways toward establishing an identity – one predicated on hard work, accountability both on and off the court and playing with a tough, competitive nature

Williams made the move to Virginia Tech following six seasons as the head coach of the Marquette Golden Eagles. At Marquette, he had a record of 139-69 and led the team to five NCAA Tournament appearances, including a trip to the regional finals in the 2012-13 season – the same season that the team won the Big East Conference regular-season title. Williams led the Golden Eagles to a 69-39 Big East Conference record during his time in Milwaukee. During Williams' tenure, six Marquette players made it to the NBA.

Williams was an assistant at Marquette during the 2007-08 season. MU concluded the year 25-10 and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2003.

Williams arrived in Milwaukee after serving for one season as the head coach at the University of New Orleans. He guided the Privateers to a 14-win campaign in 2006-07. His roster featured Bo McCalebb, the Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year. UNO claimed fourth place in the Sun Belt's Western Division and advanced to the league tournament quarterfinals. The squad claimed as many victories on the road that season as it had in the previous three seasons combined. His recruiting class for the 2007-08 season was ranked in the top 50 nationally by HoopScoopOnline.com.

Prior to UNO, Williams served as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Texas A&M for two seasons (2004-05 and 2005-06) under head coach Billy Gillispie. Both of his recruiting classes with the Aggies were ranked among the best in the nation and featured some of the top-ranked talent at the prep level. The squad made its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 25 years in 2005-06. The previous team posted the top turnaround in the nation, improving its win total in 2004-05 by 14 games compared to 2003-04.

Williams spent four seasons (2000-01 through 2003-04) at Colorado State, where he served as an assistant the first three seasons before being promoted to associate head coach in 2003-04. Two of his recruiting classes were ranked among the 40 best in the nation, including the 2003 group, which was tabbed No. 1 in the Mountain West Conference. Colorado State made its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 13 years during his tenure, and HoopScoopOnline.com named him one of the top assistants in the country.

The Van Alstyne, Texas, native was previously an assistant at Northwestern State (1999-2000), Texas A&M-Kingsville (1998-99) and Texas-Arlington (1994-98). TEXAS

STEVE ROCCAFORTE

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON AT TEXAS A&M
LAMAR '89

Thirty-four year coaching veteran Steve Roccaforte joined the Texas A&M Basketball program as an assistant coach in June 2021.

Roccaforte (PRONOUNCED: rock-uh-fort) worked for Buzz Williams previously for four years at Virginia Tech, three as an assistant and one as associate head coach. Roccaforte comes to Aggieland after spending the last three seasons at East Carolina as an associate head coach under Joe Dooley.

"Coach Roc is an important addition to our program," Williams said. "He is a tireless and effective recruiter, and as a native Texan, has strong basketball relationships across our state. He brings high energy and loves to teach the game. As a former head coach with more than 30 years of Division 1 experience, he knows the formula to help develop players on and off the floor, and understands what it takes to win. He has been on our staff before, so he understands our culture, and will have immediate traction with our staff and student-athletes."

Known nationally as a tireless recruiter and enthusiastic floor coach, Roccaforte helped the Hokies earn back-to-back NCAA Tournament at-large bids in 2017 and 2018 and post three consecutive 20-win seasons (2015-18). He also helped the Hokies win 10 ACC games in three consecutive seasons for the first time since joining the conference in 2004.

Roccaforte joined the coaching staff at Virginia Tech following three years as an assistant coach at South Florida. He played a large role in USF getting a top-15 recruiting class for both the 2012-13 and 2013-14 seasons and helped the Bulls advance to the round of 32 in the 2012 NCAA Tournament. Consistently toward the top of the list, he was ranked as the 23rd best assistant coach in the country that season.

Prior to USF, Roccaforte was the head coach at his alma mater, Lamar University, for five seasons (2006-11) after serving as an assistant coach at Lamar (2003-06), Memphis (2000-03), Wyoming (1998-00), Tulane (1994-98) and Centenary (1989-94) to begin his career.

Roccaforte has worked with some of the top coaches in the business and has recruited some of the top talent in the country. He has served under national coaches of the year in John Calipari, Perry Clark and Billy Tubbs to develop multiple nationally-ranked recruiting classes.

Roccaforte helped assemble top 20 recruiting classes at seven institutions, including the nation's top-rated class at Memphis in 2001. He also aided in the construction of a pair of top 10 classes at Lamar, three additional top 15 classes at Memphis, USF and East Carolina and three top-25 groups at both Tulane and Virginia Tech. In total, Roccaforte has facilitated 14 top-25 units, including four top-10. According to former ESPN Senior Recruiting Analyst and current San Antonio Spurs Director of Player Personnel Dave Telep, Roccaforte is one of the 25 hardest-working coaches in the nation as well as one of the top 15 recruiters in the country.

During his career, Roccaforte has coached, signed or received commitments from 29 future NBA players including six-time All-Star Amare Stoudemire and Kendrick Perkins, member of the 2008 NBA Champion Boston Celtics, along with first-round draft picks Dejuan Wagner, Antonio Burks, Qyntel Wood, Rodney Carney, Nickeil Alexander-Walker. Additionally, Roccaforte coached current NBA star Mike James (Brooklyn Nets) during his stint as the head coach at Lamar.

Roccaforte is also no stranger to postseason play, having served on the staff of eight teams that extended their seasons. He has been to five NCAA Tournaments, two with Virginia Tech and one with USF, Tulane, and Memphis along with NIT appearances at Tulane, Wyoming, Memphis and Virginia Tech. Tulane advanced to the NIT Final Four at Madison Square Garden in 1996. He helped Memphis reach MSG in 2001, win the NIT title in 2002 and advance to the NCAA Tournament in 2003 for the first time in seven years.

In all, Roccaforte's teams have made 11 postseason appearances with the Hokies' 2018 NCAA appearance being the most recent.

Roccaforte finally got his chance to be a head coach after head coach Billy Tubbs resigned his post at Lamar to focus on his Director of Athletics duties in March 2006.

In his five seasons, Lamar was a sparkling 55-20 at home in the Montagne Center and guided LU to its first SLC regular-season championship in 28 years in his second season with an impressive 13-3 conference mark. During the 2006-07 and 2007-08 seasons, Lamar registered 20 consecutive home victories. He coached nine all-conference selections at Lamar.

The 2007-08 season featured a number of impressive streaks and great players. Among them were a 14-2 home record, a school-record six consecutive conference road victories and the eighth largest home crowd in school history. Lamar ranked eighth in the nation in scoring offense (81.5 ppg) and in the top 50 in both field goal percentage (46.9) and 3-point field goal percentage (38.2).

For his efforts, Roccaforte was named the 2007-08 Southland Conference Coach of the Year. Seniors Lamar Sanders and Kenny Dawkins were both named first team All-SLC, with Dawkins matching his teammate as SLC Newcomer of the Year. The success of that season led to a top-25 ranking in the mid-major poll the following year. Lamar ranked 12th in the NCAA in assists at 17.3 per game, 31st in 3-pointers made per game (8.3) and 52nd in 3-point percentage (.379).

Individually, Sanders led the SLC, and ranked 12th in the NCAA, in rebounding at 9.8 per game. The Cardinals set a new single-season school record for 3-point attempts (702) and posted the second-best mark in 3-pointers made (266).

Academics are a high priority for Roccaforte as evidenced by the fact that Lamar's increase in Academic Progress Rate (APR) was among the best in the country. Lamar's APR moved up 101 spots to No. 20 in the country during Roccaforte's tenure. Nineteen of 20 seniors earned their degrees while he was the head coach as did 100 percent of the seniors at USF from 2011 to 2014.

During his four years at Tulane, the Green Wave consistently ranked among the top-25 recruiting classes in the nation and included an All-America and seven All-Conference USA selections. The final recruiting class that he helped sign was ranked eighth nationally.

Roccaforte helped lead the Green Wave to three consecutive 20-win seasons during his tenure (1994-97). The Green Wave advanced to the NCAA Tournament second round in 1995, the NIT Final Four in 1996 and made another NIT appearance in 1997. The program also captured Conference USA Red Division titles in 1995-96 and 1996-97.

He earned his Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences degree from Lamar in 1989. He has two daughters, Victoria Elise and Sofia Rose, and a son, Lucien Anthony.

Upon graduation, Sharp was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve.

In 1976, Sharp received a master's degree in public administration from Southwest Texas State University while working full-time with the Legislative Budget Board in Austin.

In 1978, he opened a one-man real estate firm in Victoria and became a successful small business owner. That same year he was elected to the Texas House of Representatives.

In 1982, he won a seat in the Texas Senate. Four years later, he was elected to the Texas Railroad Commission. Sharp was elected state comptroller in 1990 and re-elected in 1994.

ROSS BJORK

TEXAS A&M DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Ross Bjork began his position as Director of Athletics on July 8, 2019, and wasted little time making his mark in Aggieland.

Bjork hit the ground running by meeting with as many Aggies as possible and creating relationships across the University community with students, former students, university leaders, and building partnerships within Bryan-College Station and beyond. When faced with the challenge of COVID-19, Bjork was a pioneer and leader in the profession as he helped navigate Texas A&M, the SEC and the NCAA through the return to play from the pandemic. With his open line of communication and commitment to student-athlete safety, Texas A&M Athletics was able to provide a full student-athlete experience in 2020-21.

Despite all of the hardships brought on by the pandemic, Texas A&M Athletics has sustained the greatest academic performance in school history. Student-athletes currently boast a 3.07 cumulative GPA, and for the 2020-21 academic year, Aggie Athletics recorded the highest-ever cumulative GPA and second highest spring semester GPA. Additionally, 65 student-athletes secured a 4.0 GPA and 12 teams registered a 3.0 or better GPA. The Aggies placed 24 student-athletes on the Dean's Honor Roll, tallied 23 Distinguished Students and placed 356 on the AD Honor Roll.

Under Bjork, the Aggies have experienced tremendous success on the playing field. The 2020 edition of the football team posted a victory in the Capital One Orange Bowl and finished the season ranked No. 4, which was the program's highest final ranking since 1939. Texas A&M tallied two SEC Championships in 2020-21 with the women's basketball winning its first SEC regular season crown and soccer claiming its sixth SEC regular season or tournament title since joining the elite league. The women's track and field team earned NCAA runner-up finishes at the indoor and outdoor national meets, while top 10 national finishes were accomplished by women's basketball, equestrian, soccer, men's swimming and diving, men's tennis and men's track and field.

Bjork has a track record of hiring great coaches and the trend continued in June of 2021 as he welcomed head coaches Jim Schlossnagle, Gerrod Chadwell and Brian Kortan to Bryan-College Station. A two-time National Coach of the Year, Schlossnagle was named the 20th head coach in Texas A&M baseball history after taking five teams to the College World Series since 2010. A three-time American Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, Chadwell was chosen to lead the Aggies' women's golf program while Kortan takes over the men's golf program following a successful year as the interim head coach.

He and his team launched a successful Change.org campaign following several injustices that occurred around the country in the summer of 2020. The Unify Aggies campaign centered around education on the history of our country, injustices and current events; and engaging in a healthy dialogue in our communities. From there, Texas A&M athletics launched The Aggie Commitment and student-athletes created The B.L.U.E.print - Black Leaders who Undertake Excellence. The Aggie Commitment and B.L.U.E.print initiatives will aim to make significant progress toward providing new opportunities for personal and professional growth and development for student-athletes and staff. It will celebrate and honor Black History at Texas A&M and continue to provide student-athletes with an unparalleled experience, all while being a change agent in the fight against injustice.

Bjork provided input and guidance to leadership in the Texas legislature as they developed a comprehensive Name, Image, Likeness law in the spring of 2021. He then oversaw the creation and implementation of AMPLIFY, which will enhance Texas A&M's commitment to its student-athletes via an innovative and comprehensive Name, Image and Likeness program designed to equip Aggie student-athletes with tools and training to maximize their brand and platform. AMPLIFY will serve Texas A&M student-athletes with best-in-class education and resources related to personal branding, networking, finance, media training and more.

Bjork's leadership extends outside of Aggieland and onto a national scale. He currently serves on the NCAA Student-Athlete Experience Committee and just completed a stint on the NCAA DI Working Group on Transfers.

He came to Aggieland from the University of Mississippi, where he served as the Director of Athletics for seven years and was the youngest AD among the Power 5 conferences when hired. There, he oversaw a department with a staff of over 250 employees. During his tenure at Ole Miss, revenue generated within Athletics more than doubled, from $57 million to $117 million.

His many achievements include back-to-back Top 40 Directors' Cup finishes, ranked 39th in 2016-17 among Division 1 institutions, and 38th in 2017-18, as well as the university's first appearance in the College World Series in 42 years in 2014. New facilities and renovation improvements flourished under his leadership including the Manning Center, Baseball Performance Center, Gillom Performance Center, new outdoor track, indoor tennis complex, the Pavilion at Ole Miss and a large renovation at Vaught-Hemingway Stadium.

Bjork arrived in Oxford after a stint as Director of Athletics at Western Kentucky University where he quickly established an atmosphere of success. The youngest athletics director of the 120 NCAA FBS programs when hired at WKU, Bjork has an extensive career in intercollegiate athletics with more than two decades of experience as an administrator and student-athlete, having worked on the senior staffs at UCLA, the University of Miami and the University of Missouri. He began his administrative career at WKU as an Assistant Development Coordinator in 1996-97.

Bjork is a native of Dodge City, Kansas, and received his bachelor's degree in recreation administration from Emporia State University in 1995 where he was a two-year starter at fullback. Bjork was honored by Emporia State with the 2017 distinguished alumni award. He earned a master's degree in athletic administration from Western Illinois University in December 1996. Bjork has served in numerous leadership roles around college athletics during his career including NAADD President in 2006-07, NACDA Executive Committee, SEC awards committee chair, NCAA men's basketball oversight committee and the NCAA transfer working group.

JUSTIN MOORE

DEPUTY ATHLETICS DIRECTOR, ADMINISTRATION

Justin Moore serves as Deputy Athletics Director for Administration. Moore previously served as Senior Associate Athletics Director from 2016-19 after four years as the Aggies' Associate Athletics Director for Football from 2012-15.

During his nine years with the Aggies, Moore has touched nearly every area of the department including student-athlete performance and wellness, event management, fund-raising, facility planning and capital projects, academics and life skills, compliance, budgeting, team operations and logistics, and scheduling.

In his current role, he serves as a member of the department's executive leadership team where he provides strategic direction and oversight of department initiatives. This includes oversight of all student-athlete wellness and performance including sports medicine, sports performance, nutrition, sports science, and psychology.

Moore has oversight of key contract negotiations and relationships with several of the department's major partners including Adidas, Gatorade and Teamworks. He supervises and coordinates the department's private aviation program, oversees equipment operations for all sports and handles football non-conference scheduling.

Moore developed and manages an extensive leadership development program for the athletic department that offers specific courses and continuing education opportunities for coaches, department staff, and student-athletes.

In his role, he serves as the sport administrator for football, men's basketball, and men's and women's track and field/cross country.

In Moore's previous role as the Aggies' Associate Athletics Director for Football, he oversaw every aspect of the Aggie football program including all team logistics such as team travel and bowl games coordination, departmental budget, personnel and staffing, recruiting, day-to-day operations, and football-related facility projects.

During this time, he oversaw the entire design process for the Davis Player Development Center, the R.C. Slocum Nutrition Center, Bright Football Complex Renovation, and worked closely with the 12th Man Foundation on the $485 million Kyle Field Redevelopment project. He also served as the football program's liaison to the 12th Man Foundation on all football-related fund-raising initiatives, University Administration, and all other units within the athletic department.

Moore's involvement with the football team coincided with one of the most successful periods in the program's history. From 2012-15, the Aggies won 36 games, earned a bowl berth every season (with three bowl victories) and produced eight first-team All-Americans, as well as the first freshman Heisman Trophy winner in college football history and the school's first Outland Trophy recipient.

The 2012 Aggies produced the program's first 11-win season in more than a decade and that team's final No. 5 ranking was the highest for the Aggies since 1956. The program also produced at least one first-round pick in the NFL Draft each year, including a school-record three in 2014. Moore was instrumental in the building of the football team's coaching staff, and three members of the Kevin Sumlin's first coaching staff went on to become head coaches at the Football Bowl Subdivision level.

The Aggies' success on the field was reflected by the team's continued upward trend in the classroom. The Texas A&M football team's multi-year Academic Progress Rate (APR) and overall team grade point average were both the highest in program history. Additionally, the football team earned almost 100 SEC Academic Honor Roll citations in that time.

Prior to returning to Aggieland, Moore spent four years at the University of Houston. While there, he was part of one of the most successful eras of UH football with the Cougars winning the most games in any four-year period in school history and posting a pair of Conference USA West Division titles. The Cougars made bowl game appearances in three of the four seasons Moore spent at UH, including a victory in the TicketCity Bowl to cap a 13-1 campaign in 2011. That year, UH was ranked as high as No. 6 in the Bowl Championship Series, finishing the season at No. 19, the highest final BCS ranking in school history. The Cougars' bowl game victory in Sumlin and Moore's first year in 2008 was UH's first in 28 seasons.

At UH, Moore coordinated the Cougars' team travel, scheduling, academics, departmental budget, personnel, football fundraising and day-to-day operations, as well as serving as a liaison to the Athletic Department's senior staff, university administration and alumni. He also oversaw the team's travel, logistics and activities for three bowl games.

During Moore's stay in Houston, the football student-athletes excelled in the classroom, posting the two highest team grade point averages and passing the most hours per semester in school history.

Prior to joining Houston, Moore spent two years as special assistant to the senior associate athletics director at Texas A&M. In this role Moore coordinated and led the NCAA certification process, assisted with football scheduling and assisted and coordinated all student financial aid. He also coordinated and supervised all activities associated with agent interviews, NFL pro-day and all educational seminars and activities for student-athletes and their parents.

Prior to his time with Texas A&M, Moore worked in the private sector as a consultant for Deloitte & Touche LLP. He consulted with top-level executives of Fortune 500 companies on both their business cycles and information technology processes.

Moore graduated from Texas A&M in 2004 with a degree in finance and later earned a master's degree in sport management. He was two-time captain for the Aggie baseball team from 2000-04. Named a Freshman All-American pitcher in 2001, Moore was twice named to the All-Big 12 Team and was a two-time recipient of the Pat Olsen Most Valuable Pitcher Award (2001-02). He was named to the Academic All-Big 12 Team four straight years.

A three-sport standout in high school, Moore graduated from Katy Taylor in 1999 and was inducted into the Katy Taylor Athletics Hall of Fame (2012). Moore and his wife, Dory (A&M Class of 2003), have three children, Kate, Tysen, and Tatum.
